

Teachers Help To Pave

Mrs. Linda Stewart, Miss Anna Lee Dean and Mrs. Becky Brooks play an important part in the future of many PCHS students because they teach business vocational classes ranging from Typing I to General Business. In these classes students learn skills that will be helpful in getting a job in the business field. These classes are designed to provide realistic business problems for students to solve. For example, students are given business simulation packets to complete.

Right, Jocelyn Hanna works on a business simulation packet.

Kim Layman and Sharon Beverage are hard at work in class because there is so much to learn.

Classes Not All Work

State certification is the objective of the students enrolled in the Welding classes. This year they constructed a roof ventilator fan to exhaust smoke from the shop and also constructed a Heat-a-lator.

It wasn't all work and no play for the Drafting classes who took two trips this year. Once they visited the hydroelectric dam under construction in Bath County, Va., and another time they toured Natural Bridge, Va.

Nurses Cure With Love

"Nurses cure what love can't cure" is just one of the sayings found on the bulletin board in the nursing room, a well equipped classroom reminiscent of a hospital room complete with "dummy" patients. The nurses don't spend all their time in the classroom. They spent 26 half days working at Pocahontas Memorial Hospital, plus they visited the Greenbrier Medical Clinic and Hotel

Forestry Classes Hold

Forestry I and Forestry II in the past have covered a lot, but maybe not as much as this year's classes. They covered 13 skills ranging from the study of trees to forest fire protection to forestry measurements (tree craining) right down to firewood cutting. The year ended with a Forestry Field Day where Forestry I challenged Forestry II in such skills as log rolling, pulp splitting, and ax throwing. In the end Forestry II won.

Right, Tony Kelly works with the demonstration unit in the Forestry class.

Field Day Competition

The Electronics and Electricity classes put forth effort that someday will help them to undertake a well paying job. The Electricity classes over the past year have wired electricity into several houses and barns all over the county. On the other hand the electronics class puts together projects in the classroom.

Class Experience Gives

Actually building a house, a hay trailer or doing some other project that requires application of learned skills gives on-the-job experiences to students enrolled in the Carpentry I and II, Agriculture Science and Agricultural Shop classes.

Because Pocahontas County is so rural and many residents depend upon agriculture as a full or partial means of livelihood, most PCUIS young men enroll in the carpentry or agricultural classes at some point in high school in order to acquire career-related skills. The shop class works a lot with wood and does a lot with welding and cutting. The carpentry class completed several assignments in different areas of Pocahontas County.

To the right, Treary Baker, sophomore, cuts a board to finish a class project while Hopson listens carefully to him as he explains the project. Baker is planning to finish the class for a project.

The Job Skills

Family Living Offered

In addition to the regular Home Economics class, a Commercial Foods class is offered to upperclassmen and Family Living is offered as a class to study family relations, consumer education, etc.

The Family Living class was visited by some resource people like Mr. Bob Martin, attorney, who talked about teen-age laws and others; Rev. David Rittenhouse, who talked about marriage, and a few other sources.

Home Economics, in order to increase male enrollment, and include areas of study that are interesting to more people, has started to incorporate many diverse topics.

Special Programs Give

Special programs are offered to students who are experiencing problems in meeting people, working with the public, reading, or just plain passing classes.

The Distributive Education program was designed to assist students in building social skills for working with the public, as well as perfecting practical skills such as giving the correct change.

Remedial Reading is a course open to freshmen students who have been recommended by 8th grade teachers and who need special English and reading before going into the regular phased program. The work is individualized so that the majority of students are always doing different assignments.

Special Education is for students who are not ready for phased classes.

Go For It

Perfection is an entity which, no matter how close, is always unattainable. Yet, even this knowledge cannot stop one who is truly dedicated to reaching ever higher.

Circumstances and events present obstacles in the path to perfection. These temporary stumbling blocks hinder, but never stop a true winner.

Whether it is intercepting a touchdown pass, slam-dunking the ball, crossing the finishing line, or going for the gold, athletes are always striving for perfection.

Season Finishes Well

Neither rain nor snow nor sleet nor hail will keep the mailman from his route or the Warriors off the football field. It was a tough but fine season for the team.

They started off with a loss against Nicholas County High School but came right back with a win against Tucker County High School.

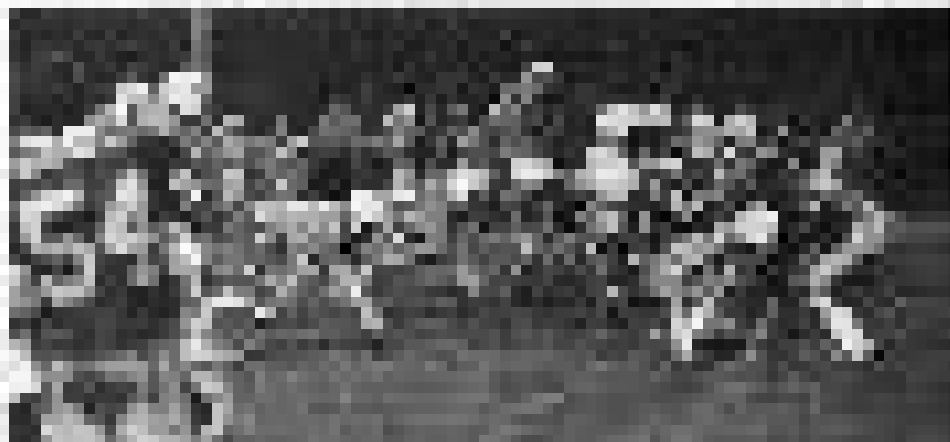

For the first time in years the Warriors beat Greenbrier West High School with a score of 7-14.

They fought hard Homecoming night but were defeated by Man with a score of 21-14. But the team did not give up. They moved on and beat Webster County High School, 6-12, and Valley High School, 12-14.

It was a good season that ended with five wins and four losses.

Below, on the sideline, Chuck Rexrode, freshman, looks dejected, because he's unable to play with a broken leg.

The Warriors Keep Trying

It was a season of turmoil for the varsity squad members who fought among themselves and with their coach, with the ultimate result of a walk-out by some players. They cited lack of a spirit of cooperation as being the basis of the problem; but whatever the reason, it cost the Warriors a fine season.

Probably the most exciting games of the season were the first Tucker County game (where the Warriors won 67-64 in overtime) and the first game of the tournament where P.C.H.S. downed Webster County 82-73.

The end of the year found Mike Garber named to the second team of the All-Conference Teams, and Sam Helmick received an honorable mention.

While Faces Keep Changing

Team Finishes Second

The troubles experienced by the varsity squad proved to be good for many junior varsity and freshman players because it provided them with the opportunity to move up to the varsity squad to finish the season.

As for the freshman team, the squad experienced a fine season, compiling an overall record of nine wins and five losses. The team finished second in the eight-team tournament at Nicholas County, losing by only one point. The team was also the first team in PCHS history to beat White Sulphur Springs on their home court. The team was led by Chuck Workman and Robbie Waugh for the most part of the season.

Chuck Workman and Perry Murphy were awarded All Tournament Honors.

Row four: Tony Poddesser, Kenneth Schulcraft. Below, Sam Helmick catches the basketball while pausing for a moment of deliberation on his next move.

Senior Will Leave Team

Playing and having fun were the objectives of this season's girls' basketball team, said Coach Elizabeth Rabel. And they did have fun, although the varsity experienced a no-win season and often played to near-empty bleachers.

Girls' basketball has not been well-supported by the public in Pocahontas County, and the teams have had trouble finding someone willing to take the time to coach. But the girls keep plugging away, trying to build an experienced squad that will do better in years to come. They will lose only one senior this spring, thus leaving a group of girls who can maximize upon their experience next year.

Outstanding players for the varsity squad were Rachel Sharp who led the team with an average of 12.1 points per game, and Julie McLaughlin, with the greatest number of rebounds.

The freshman team ended the season with two wins and eight losses. This team was led by Coach Mary Ogden who said that all the players were outstanding, noting that there were only five players.

Squad seeks support

It seemed as though the cheerleaders might never find a sponsor this year. Mr. Glen Wade, assistant principal, became their unofficial leader when no one else could be found. Later in the year the cheerleaders honored him with a special plaque for his kindness. The Varsity squad was led by head cheerleader, Irene White.

Mascot Debbie Ramsey, wears her suede cloth dress with fringe as she cheers the Warriors on to a victory, right. Debbie was chosen mascot last spring by a panel of judges during cheerleading tryouts. The school has always had a Warrior mascot.

This year's freshmen cheerleaders, Rhonda Hunt, Cara and Carla Hefner, and Debbie Smith watch a basketball game attentively, while the crowd uses the time to visit with their friends. Below, if one looks closely one may observe Paul and Perry Murphy and Russell Jensen looking bored to death while Kim Colbourne and Ken Dean do their homework.

Track Members To Enter Region

The 1979-80 PCMS track team consisted of twenty members and one manager. Mr. Delmas Barb, Marlinton Middle School teacher, coached the boys, as well as traveled to away meets with them.

Girls' Track Improves

Julie McLaughlin broke the girls' school track record this year in the discus throw. She threw 89 feet and nine inches, breaking Becky Sharp's record of 80 feet and five inches.

With Coach Reta Rose, this year saw an improvement in the girls' track team. They came in second place at both the West track meet and the Webster County track meet. They placed third in the Elkins' meet, fifth at the Greenbrier East track meet, and sixth at the Nicholas County track meet.

Many who tried for a track position thought it would be fun and it would help them stay in shape. Several didn't realize what speed and endurance they had until they began winning events at the track meets. A freshman who has shown her athletic abilities in running is Becky Davis. She helped provide the team with points at track meets by running in the 100 meter dash, 4 x 200 meter relay and 4 x 100 meter relay.

With their hard work, the track team proves to be ready for the "Eighties."

Right, Brenda Adams and Becky Davis were to run the 100 meter dash at Elkins track meet. Becky placed second and Brenda placed fifth in this event. This is Becky's first year in girls' track and Brenda's second year. Both girls have speed and endurance.

Mally Ray, below, pushes hard to complete the 2,600 meter run at Nicholas County Girls' Track Meet. This is her first year in track. She won a first place at the Greenbrier West Track Meet, which helped the team take second place.

"On your mark, set, go!" is just one of the words Terri Workman and Brenda Adams, above, were needing to hear so they could run the 100 meter dash at Elkins' track meet.

Track Team

Brenda Adams - long jump, 4 x 200 meter relay, 800 meter medley, 100 meter dash; Teresa Alderman - 4 x 200 meter relay, 4 x 100 meter relay, 4 x 400 meter relay, 200 meter dash, 400 meter dash; Tammy Armstrong - 100 meter dash, 4 x 200 meter relay, 200 meter dash; Shirley Carpenter - 1,600 meter run; Charma Carr - 1,600 meter run, 4 x 400 meter relay; Diane Coleman - high jump, 4 x 400 meter run; Karen Collins - high jump, 4 x 400 meter run; Pam Cupan - 100 meter dash, 4 x 100 meter relay, 4 x 400 meter relay; Becky Davis - 800 meter dash, 4 x 200 meter relay, 4 x 100 meter relay, 4 x 100 meter relay, 200 meter dash; Kim Friel - 200 meter medley, 4 x 100 meter relay; Hobbes Gifford - 400 meter dash; Rhonda Harrison - discus, shot put; Robyn Hillenry - 800 meter medley, 4 x 100 meter relay, 4 x 200 meter relay; Cheryl McLaughlin - 400 meter dash; Julie McLaughlin - long jump, shot put, discus, 4 x 400 meter relay; Julia Muldeman - 200 meter dash, 4 x 200 meter relay; Cindy Mollens - 800 meter run; Sara Oliver - high jump, 110 meter low hurdles; Molly Ray - 322 meter run, 200 meter dash, 4 x 200 meter relay; Melanie Rose - high jump, 110 meter low hurdles; Charma Roy - 110 meter low hurdles; Rachel Sharp - 800 meter medley, 800 meter run, 4 x 400 meter relay; Stefan Shinnaberry - 800 meter run; Donna Walton - 100 meter dash, 4 x 200 meter relay; Tompa Wiley - 800 meter run, 400 meter dash; Shelia Wilkoff - high jump; Terri Workman - 110 meter run, 800 meter medley, 4 x 100 meter relay; Theresa Workman - long jump.

bove, Julie McLaughlin makes a powerful leap in the high jump event at Elkins.

Barton Goes To State

The boys and girls regional track meet was held at Nicholas County High School on May 16. Girls who placed in the competition were Julia McLaughlin, who tied for fifth in the discus; Robin Hillary, Kim Friel, Teresa Alderman, and Becky Davis the 4 x 100 relay team that placed sixth, and Molly Ray, Tammy Armstrong, Teresa Alderman and Becky Davis who placed fifth in the 4 x 200 relay.

In boys track John Barton placed second in the AA Regional meet which qualified him for the state meet in Charleston. At the state meet John got a height of 10 feet in the pole vault but he was trying for 11 feet 6 inches. John was the only track member who qualified for the state meet. Bobby Simmons, John Barton, Ken Underwood, and Donny Rose placed fourth in the 4 x 100 relay; Brett Withers, Chuck Beverage, Mike Doss and Donny Rose, placed fifth in the 4 x 200 relay; Chuck Beverage, Ken Underwood, Mike Doss placed fifth in the mile relay; Mike Doss placed sixth in the 100 yard dash and Travis Roach placed sixth in the mile.

Soccer Proves Successful

Spring is a time when organized sports are over and many get a chance to put their new-found energy to good use while playing intramural sports. A volleyball match is held each year in the gymnasium between student teams with names such as "Cool and the Gang" and "Chipmunks." Nine teams participated this year and after quarter-final, semi-final and final games were held, "Eight Is Enough," emerged victorious.

Another sport that has come of age in Pocahontas County is soccer. A league, organized by drafting teacher Jeorgen Sumpf, offered youth and adults a chance to participate in an individual sport. "Everyone Plays" was the slogan of the league which also sent teams to play out of the county.

Taking It Easy

Each Tuesday the first three classes are shortened to allow a time for club meetings to be held. On Thursday mornings classes are shortened again to provide time for extracurricular activities, doing homework, or just relaxing.

These spare minutes provide a welcome break from classes and ideal times to take advantage of the wide variety of organizations and activities that are offered through the school. Students also spend many afternoons, evenings, and weekends, taking part in school-related activities. The rural area makes the school a very important center of activity due to its centralized location and the variety of programs offered through the school system.

Athletics Advancement Is Goal Of Lettermen.

The Lettermen's Club is an organization dedicated to the improvement and advancement of Varsity Athletics. Membership is open to all Varsity Lettermen.

During the 1979-80 year the club sponsored a "Red-Heads" ballgame to raise money for the improvement of the team as well as the weight room. The club also purchased an AM-FM, 8-Track stereo for the entertainment of the Lettermen while they work out.

The club has approximately 70 members and 3 sponsors, coaches Bob Sheets, Elmer Friel and Rick Penny, packer.

Although the club does little more than prepare for competition with other schools, it still remains the most highly talked about club at school. The club extends its welcome to any Varsity Lettermen who wishes to join this club and to be a part of the PCHS Athletic scene.

Secret Club

PAIS is a secretive girls organization which gives money to support the boys' athletic department from funds earned by selling refreshments during high school ballgames.

The club has 23 members and two sponsors.

The Future Business Leaders of America sponsored activities to raise money for themselves, as well as charities, such as the March of Dimes. This money was raised by a pie throwing contest and bake sale, which were held during the month of February.

On March 29, the members traveled to Bluefield State College, to attend the annual Southern FBLA Conference. At this conference Julia Mulligan placed first in the poster contest. No other awards were won by PCHS students this year.

The FBLA club has 22 members, and 2 sponsors. They meet in Miss Anna Lee Dean's room during activity periods, and occasionally after school.

Vice-Principal, Glen Wade takes a valiant attempt at a stern look, when a member of the student body got their revenge by hitting him right where it hurts - on the face with a pie!

Association Of Gymnasts Present Shows

The Gymnastics Club is a group of 21 students organized for the purpose of doing gymnastic stunts for the personal experiences it provides, as well as the entertainment of others.

The gymnastic club was involved in two major activities during the 1979-80 year. In cooperation with the physical education classes, they presented an annual gymnastic show for the student body on the afternoon of March 27. The club also held a half-time show during an evening basketball game on February 29.

The group planned to present shows to the local grade schools and middle schools, but they were not assembled in time to make all the appearances, as previously planned.

Money Campaigns Prove Successful

Explorers Camp Out

Although not one of the more active groups at PCHS, the members of the Explorers Club still have big plans. The planning committee is working on a camping trip possibly to Cranberry Glades.

The Distributive Education Classes of America have joined the 1979-80 curriculum. The club has 30 members who learn marketing, consumer behavior and different sales' approaches.

Group Is Industrious

The PCHS band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Fauber, is an active part of the school. The group plays at football games, and occasionally, basketball games. They march in parades such as the Pioneer Days parade and the Marlinton Christmas Parade. The band also attends Band Day at WVU. They hold a Christmas, spring, and pops concert each year. Performances are given to students and to the public. The group participates annually in a band festival in Clarksburg. To finance the trip band members participate in a variety of fundraising activities. Often items such as magazines and mugs are sold by members to raise money.

A familiar sight during the spring is the band returning from the football field where they practice marching in preparation for the parade at Clarksburg.

Band member Bobbi Nottingham passes time by reading after the band performed in a parade during Pioneer Days in Marlinton.

A little rain couldn't dampen the spirits of the band at the Homecoming ballgame. Band members donned waterproof capes and carried on as usual.

The band was invited to West Virginia University during the fall to participate in a band day. The band performed at a WVU football game in Morgantown.

Mark Newkirk, Jamie Burks, and Rocky Mace -- members of the PCHS band -- pause for a chat after marching in a parade with the rest of the band at the band festival in Clarksburg. This year's festival was held May 1-3.

Musicians Give Concert

Many hours of practice are needed to perfect music for a concert. Yet, the band gives its time to perform several concerts each year.

Seven senior class members are active in the band as musicians and majorettes. They are Candy Harper, Carol McNeill, Vera Wade, Teresa Shatzberry, Elaine Kelley, Jackie Sharp, and Ronnie Hall.

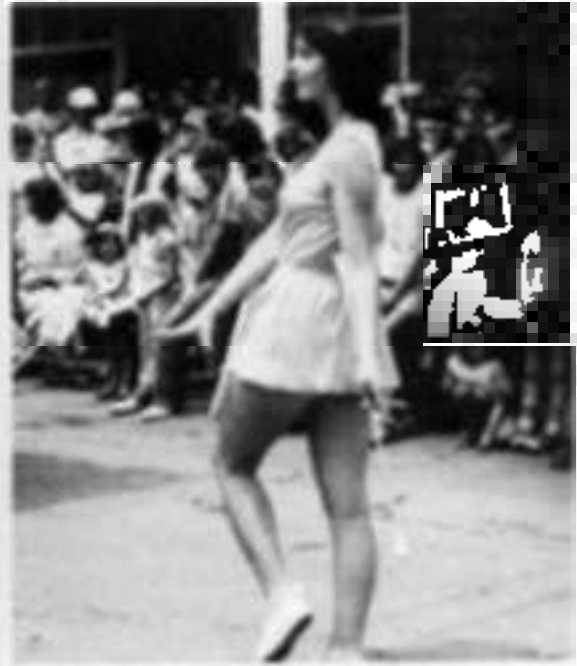

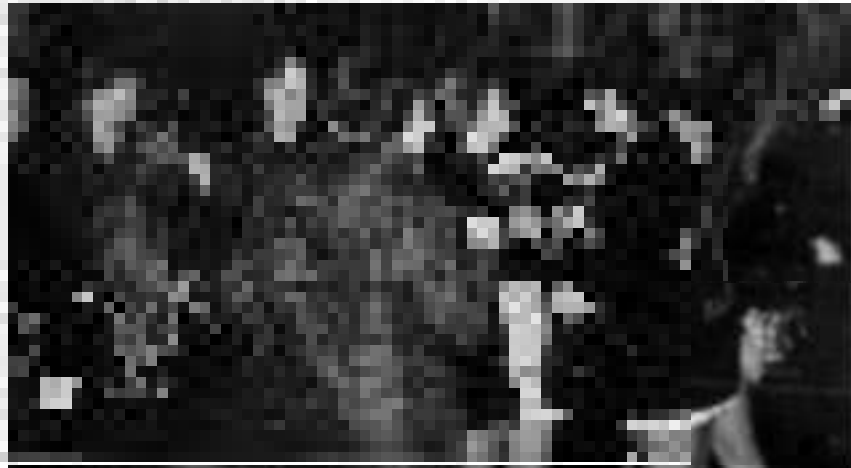

The PCMS gym is often the setting for band concerts. Mr. Charles Faerber directs the band in its spring concert. This concert consisted mainly of popular music.

Twirlers Part of Band

The twirlers are an integral part of the band. They perform at ball games and parades and play instruments during band concerts.

The eight girls and two alternates who perform as majorettes are an integral part of the band. They perform at ball games and parades and play instruments during band concerts.

The alternate majorettes are Lisa VanRooyen and Debbie Nottingham.

Vocalizers Are "Hot" At Live Performance

The Pops Group performs at band concerts and in their own concerts. They sing for community groups and local institutions, including Denmar State Hospital. The group performed several times at West Virginia Tech and also at Glenville State College in conjunction with chorale workshops.

The group were the highlight of a program at a WVIT workshop where several such groups performed when the stage curtain caught on fire during the singing group's performance.

Sophomore Elaine Friel is the piano accompanist for the Pops Group. She had to learn to play each piece the musical group performed for concerts, workshops, and competitions.

Many hours of practice go into each concert in which the singing group participates. Much time is devoted to perfecting the pieces they plan to perform.

Pops Group members concentrate on the music they are singing at one of their many performances during the year.

During Spirit Week Charma Roy and the other Pops Group members dressed in 50's style clothing and performed for the student body.

Honor Program Tests Students' Capacities

The Honors program is designed to challenge the capacities of outstanding academic students by exposing them to new experiences. The program does this by expanding their knowledge of educational and occupational opportunities, cultural events, and encouraging mature behavior. The group took three field trips: Fairmont State College, Marshall University and Washington, D.C. The last was taken to finish a program on art appreciation given to members by Dr. William Leary.

The 1979-80 Honors Program traveled to Washington, D.C., to visit the National Museum of Art, accompanied by Dr. William Leary and the English Exchange students. The Exchange students went along to make their stay in the U.S. a little more exciting as well as educational.

Rank And File

As each day passes, we meet new people. Each has a separate personality and a distinct way of life. Yet every person is an essential and integral part of school life.

Years go by and a sense of accomplishment comes as we move from a freshman, to a sophomore, to a junior and finally to a senior. People scarcely known at one time become friends and acquaintances with whom both the good times and the bad are shared and to whom secrets and plans are revealed. The fears and foibles, mistakes and misunderstandings and even the everyday hassles soon become memories. And while dates of wars and deaths of kings are soon forgotten, thoughts of school life can be summed up in three words: It goes on.

'Taking Care Of Business'

The senior class officers have been busy collecting class dues, planning senior activities, and taking care of the business of the senior class since early in the school year. The elected officials of the senior class are Greg Friel, vice-president; June Taylor, secretary; Anita Oliver, treasurer; Tony Beverage, president; and Robert Simmons, representative.

Lively Laughter

Happiness comes to everyone a different way. Some are happy when doing something for a special person. Others are happy when they see a smiling face, find that the long winter months are over and spring has arrived, or realize that a completed school day brings graduation one day closer. ## Couple Magic Everything on the ark came in couples, male and female, and that's the way it is at PCHS sometimes. One might see couples holding hands at assemblies, hiding in corners, walking each other to class, attending the Homecoming game and dances, going to other dances, going to the drive-in or theater on the weekends, and spending as much time together as they can. Left, Betty Simmons walks Russ Ann Peling to one of her classes. Right, David Smith and Barry Allen, juniors, discuss plans for the Homecoming dance.

Gym Is The Place

The gymnasium is the place. The gym is used for many different things such as sports, concerts, plays, and a variety of other things. When the students unload from buses in the morning over half of them go to the gym to associate with friends. The stage is lined with people and all around the floor there are people standing or sitting while talking to friends. Below, Susan Monk, visits friends in the gym during activity morning.

Pausing To Remember

A friend can never be replaced. When the special relationship of friendship forms between two people, their time spent together soon becomes memories. But what is time? Day and night, summer and winter or the striking of the clock are outward measures of time and not time itself. Time is often referred to as the life of the soul.

The measure of life is similar to that of time. Stopping to enjoy the wonders of nature and living by instinct instead of rule proves more essential than how long living continues.

Yet when a friend suddenly dies, by natural causes or by accident, the initial response is shock. This state of disbelief gradually evolves into realization and the acceptance of death. Through day to day activities the awareness of someone's presence no longer being there leads to grief.

Though still in a stage of mourning, the rationalization that life goes on is apparent. Memories of the good times shared come floating back. And although a double for a lost friend cannot be found, calling back yesterday and bidding time to return sometimes help to ease grief. Now, we can only regret that time did not allow them to achieve what they were capable of becoming. It is in this way the lives of Samuel A. Pondexter, Karen Sue Buchanan and Johnny G. Sharp, Jr. will be remembered.

Warrior Stolen

The 200 pound fiberglass Warrior statue that stood in front of the school was stolen sometime between Jan. 18 and 21. The hollow figure was bought with funds donated by the class of 1974, Lions Club, Lettermen's Club, and money raised by special activities. The original cost of the mascot was $833.64.

Cruising Together

Friends are people who share feelings and problems. They are trusting and understanding and usually do things together. Thus, there are some people who are almost always seen together. For instance, if one saw Cindy Mullens, Jackie Sharp was sure to be around somewhere. And how about Susan Vance and Meg Crickenberger, or Brett Winbers and Steve Van Keenen, Beth Liptak and Amber Ralston, Mark Joosse and Danny Dolan, or Jan Irvine and McLeah Phillips, Robyn Hallery and Addie Dunbrack.

Hushed Concentration

Whether, it is studying for a test or trying to work out problems, concentration is a main factor. It helps people through difficult times and decides what a person will do. Some of the things students concentrate on are sports, homework or helping a friend work out problems. Concentration comes easy for some people, but others have to work hard to achieve it. Left, Mike Garber concentrates at a club meeting while Clyde Perkins, right, debates a class discussion. Below, studies are overlooked as Scott Lambert tells a joke.

Helmick Heads Juniors

These calculating conspirators are the elected representatives of the junior class.

The person with the money is, fittingly enough, Mark Jones, the class treasurer. His co-conspirators are Brian Waulo, vice-president; Danny Dolan, secretary; and Sam Helmick, president.

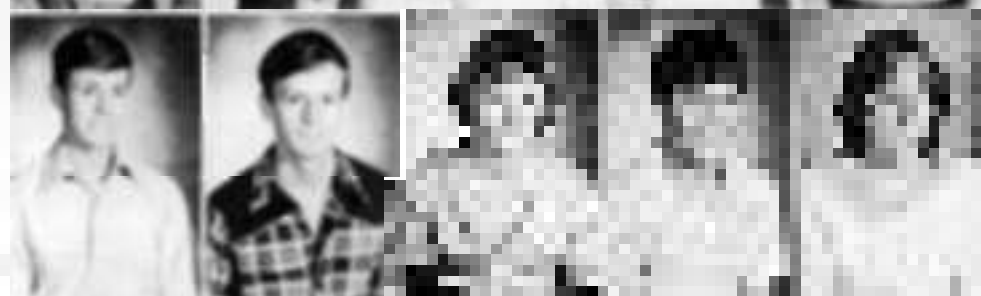

These officers and the junior class sponsor a major event during the year. Months of preparation by this class culminate on May 9 in the form of Prom Night.

Those Perplexing Lockers

They line the halls, come in two color shades — sea green and institutional green, both of which contrast to the pale yellow walls — and are the outlet for many frustrations. They are the lockers found in six of eight corridors at PCHS.

Locker numbers and combinations are located in the upper right corner of class schedules given out the first day of school. After the one dollar locker fee is paid, students are able to do essentially what they want with them.

Overcrowded is the description of a majority of lockers, upper left. With a sixth period class in the English wing and one's locker in the Vocational building, the possibility of stopping at the locker plus making it to class in three minutes is slim. Moving in with friends saves time but cramps extra school supplies into a space designed for one.

Free Time Allows Watching Of Others

People watching is not limited to humans, however. Fred, the dinosaur, is passing his free time people-watching in the gym in the picture at top right. Fred has temporarily escaped from his owner Anita Oliver, senior, on "Little Boy, Little Girl Day" which was a part of Spirit Week this year.

Expressions Can Tell All

A person's expression can often tell a lot about that person, but sometimes expressions can be misleading. Junior Jan Ervine, shown in the top photo, appears to be in a bad mood, but she is actually just "hamming it up" for the camera.

You can tell that a photographer in the dressing room is an unwelcome sight just by seeing the expression on senior Rhonda Hammons' face. The fact that Rhonda was holding, not wearing, her pants may have something to do with her sentiments.

Officers Provide Guidance

One of the initial requirements of a sophomore class officer is to have a sense of foresight. The success of the 1981 junior-senior prom depends largely upon these four people. Their efforts and money-making activities, including the Christmas Ball on December 15 and the Easter Ball held March 28, provide a foundation which can be built on later.

Furs Make Chill Bearable

Winter weather forecasts were predicting cold temperatures and heavy snowfalls throughout the eastern United States. But no one was prepared when on October 11, up to four inches of wet, heavy snow broke power lines, snapped trees and closed schools for two days.

With the early onset of cold weather, one of the most popular styles in winter outer-wear became fur and fur-lined coats. Below, Jane Sharp, sophomore, models her birthday present -- a rabbit fur coat as Cindy Mullens and Ronnie Bennett admire it's design.

Friends Gather

Memories of high school days would not be possible without friends. Through the hassles, the headaches and the everyday trials, the friendships established during the weeks of classes remain steady.

Friendships become major components of student life. On September 4, bleacher sections were assigned to each class in the gym. Students were to sit in their designated sections during assemblies. But all rules were made to be broken.

As pep rallies and assemblies passed, appointed regions were ignored and friends appeared in all sizes and ages.

Students Create Cafeteria 'Games'

Cafeteria food is one of the most talked about subjects around the school. Running to lunch has become a sports competition with Mr. Glen Wadg, vice-principal, serving as referee. The early morning menu reading has become an audience participation event. Everyone joins in as "rolls, butter and milk" is heard over the loud speaker. A game that could be called "Name That Ingredient" has been invented for days when vegetable soup is served in the cafeteria.

School Isn't ALL Work!

Contrary to popular belief, one of the main objectives of going to school is to learn. Studying also has a place at school, at least for some people. Junior Gary Rexrode has found time at school to get some of his studying done. Harry Chocklett, freshman, has found other ways to occupy his time while at school. An electronic game has captured his attention in the bottom picture.

Skipping Is Faster

Freshmen become familiar with the daily routine of waiting as soon as they arrive for their first day.

Within twelve days after their arrival, Tony Pondexter and Troy Wilson, right, picked up on the trade of skipping the lunch lines as they weigh the advantages of getting faster service at the Freshman Picnic.

Anticipation of bells causes eternal waiting as seen by a lunch stage crew and Brenda Kinnison, below.

Popular Points Filled

School on the first impression has the feeling of open and sufficient space to accommodate masses of people. But when bells sound, wide hallways are crammed with people and bathrooms fill as the latest gossip is exchanged.

These points become popular and are the sites of a majority of information passing. In an excursion led by Rhonda Hammons and Teresa Scott, left, 24 girls squeeze into one stall to break a previous record of 15 as rain forces Braxton County band members indoors, below.

Two Resign During Year

Each year new faces come and go among students and faculty at PCHS. At the beginning of the school year there were eight new teachers and before the closing of school, two of the faculty members, Mr. Richard Gronetlose, physical education teacher and Mr. Donald Flegel, forestry teacher, had left to take other jobs. The newest face among teachers this year is Mr. Michael Burns, forestry teacher.

Behind Scene Workers

Not very often is recognition given to the people who are responsible for getting students to school on time each morning, no matter what the weather, or to those who work evenings and nights to keep that sparkle and shine throughout the school.

Pocahontas County is unusual in that all the high school students are transported by bus. Some spend as much as an hour and a half riding a bus up to 40 miles to school.

Our night custodians are the ones who have to work evenings and nights to scrub floors, wash blackboards, and to pick up the mess that is left behind after the students are gone.

They're here early in the morning to prepare breakfasts for students who arrive with empty stomachs, and they're sometimes here late to prepare these special banquets everyone enjoys so much. In between times they serve us our lunch. They're our friends, the cooks.

After serving lunch and making sure the dishes were done, cooks Miss Carlsen, Kathryn Simmons, and Nancy Kirk, take time out to take care of other matters. Below is Mr. David Shethley, Food Services Supervisor.

Cook Sharon Turner, who is filling out monthly cafeteria reports above, seems to be very glad to see the photographer stop by.

New Remedial Math Course Is Offered In Curriculum

A new math course called Remedial Math is offered to those students that have difficulty in math.

The Math Department sponsored a math field day for grades 4 - 9.

The Science Department offers many choices from which to pick the one elective science class. The department offers Advanced science, chemistry, physical science, and physics as electives. The required class is biology.

Activities are invented by the students to overcome the boredom that may occur in classes. Left, as Mike Meadows, Chris Jones, and Janet Meadows study, an unidentified student studies the hand. Below, some subjects in the Science Department require a lot of precise measurements. Rick Barlow and Charlene Roy are giving a close eye to a scale in Advanced Science. This class gives students a chance to further study the science of animals and plants. The course is taught by Mrs. Pam Sharpe.

Information is the Name of the Game

Classrooms are not the only places where students are in learning situations. The library and the learning center provide a wealth of information for those willing to take advantage of it.

The journalism class records the passing of the school year in the forms of a yearbook, newspaper and senior magazine. Putting these publications together requires long hours after school and at home to meet deadlines.

Below, Candy Mullens finds that organizing a newspaper can be messy at times. Right, Miss Peggy Smith is head librarian.

A typewriter becomes a journalism student's constant. Candy Mullens, senior, and Mike Fried, junior, rush to meet a deadline.

Social studies is required of freshmen, sophomores and juniors. Jeff Schuhmann and Craig Odley, freshmen, are enrolled in the American West class.

Lectures are a big part of the social studies class. Shown is Tommy Shaler collecting information needed for tomorrow's test.

Classes Offered Are Designed To Bring Awareness

What has four classrooms and has to do with money, future, cowboys, Indians and Washington, D.C.?

It's the courses offered by the Social Studies Department. Future Studies, taught by Mr. Steven Barksdale, is a class designed to make students more aware and knowledgeable of what may happen in the future. The American Government class is taught by Mrs. Mary Schwantke. This is her first year with the Social Studies Dept. The American West, dealing with the settlement of the West and the exploitation of the Indian, is taught by Mr. Quentin Stewart. The Consumerism class, which gave the students a better understanding of how to buy and manage money, is taught by Mrs. Pat Keller.

Classes Develop Talents

Art and music two elective classes at PCBS, help students learn to express themselves by developing their talents. These classes also provide students who wish to pursue a career in art or music with the opportunity to explore their chosen fields and perfect their technique.

Right, Sherry Carpenter, junior, works to improve her technique and rhythm on a french horn during 7th period band.

Below, Marvin Sharp, sophomore, matches a landscape on the black board in one of Mrs. Marlam and Nostran's art classes.

Above, Art II students Cheryl Mccluskey and Dottie Johnson listen as Mrs. Vanhoostran explains technique used in some of the greatest paintings.

Below, choir members Jack Cummings, Jerri Cassell, Mark Newkirk and Sean Milner rehearse a song to be sung at the Awards Day Ceremony.

New Challenges

Languages have long been a challenge, and for those who haven't conquered the English language they can become even more so.

At PCHS, two foreign languages are offered. French I and II are taught by Mrs. Fay Moore and Father Roy Lombard is the instructor for Latin I.

The phased English classes were joined by an English course from Shepherd College for seniors only, and it was taught by Mrs. Louise Fiegel.

David Smith, senior, upper right, seems to find the task which he has been assigned incomprehensible. Mrs. Louise Fiegel, above, is weighed down with literature. Seniors Amber Robinson, Beth Lynch and Jody Phillips prepare a class demonstration in College English.

French class, which is taught by Mrs. Kay Moore who is also an English instructor, is one of the favorite extracurricular courses offered. Both French I and II are taught, and the French I class at left seem to be enjoying themselves at the expense of Mrs. Moore.

Father Roy Lombard, Latin I instructor, transformed himself into Father Ducale during Homecoming Spirit Week.

Sandra Goode, junior, concentrates on the making of a puppets in its beginning stages, while at lower left, Clyde Perkins and Matt Dunn add a mouth to a muppet. These boys are preparing to use their animated friends in a show for Mr. Alderman's class. Mr. Alderman, English teacher, seems to have lost his position to Ward Estes, junior, and Daniel Sharp, freshman, above.

Driver Education not only includes a class, but it involves one period of driving as well. Shown are Mr. Harold Crist, science teacher and Tony Sharp, Greg Monk and J.D. Winslow, sophomores. Mr. Crist drives with the students one period daily. Not only do the students receive the fundamentals of driving in Driver Ed, they also learn the car parts and where to pass. The biggest part of subject matter that is covered is SAFETY.

Sherita Wilfong learns to do a backward walkover in an unusual way.

Special Electives Prove Preparatory and Helpful

What demands immense concentration, steady nerves, confidence and sometimes "takes a lot out of you?" The answer to this question has a compound answer: physical education, driver education and special education. These courses offer the students the opportunity to learn skills that will stay with them all their lives. These skills aren't only necessary — they go farther than that and become INTERESTING.

Mrs. Elizabeth Webb, special education teacher, pauses to explain an assignment to one of her students, above.

Special education students, using free time to talk, don't want to have their picture taken.

Paula Fisher, senior, works hard to finish assignments before the end of the day.

Trade Preparation Offered

There are many trades to be studied in the high school vocational program. Each classroom may appear to be a small industry at work. Students work with big equipment and a variety of tools as they learn to weld, saw, lay bricks and install electricity in houses.

Vocational classes are mainly three period block classes to provide time for instruction as well as practical experience.

Electricity class installed the electrical wiring of the Pocahontas County Radio Station. Welding students built wood stoves to sell.

The basic purpose of all vocational classes is to prepare students to enter the job market and give them the opportunity to explore different areas which may lead to possible careers in these areas.

Below, Ross Haney, senior, works in welding class on a wood stove that the students built. Below center, Max Gunt, junior, works in carpentry class with a radial arm rip saw.

J. E. Kupper, senior, demonstrates how to use a disk sander in welding. He wears special protective clothing while doing this so not to burn himself or his clothing. A face guard is also worn to keep the sparks from hitting him in the face.

100 Hours Experience Required

Nursing is a three hour block class taken by 16 girls. They have class at school and work at Pocahontas Memorial and Denmar State Hospitals, spending one semester at each hospital. The state requirement is 100 hours of clinical experience to become a Nurse's Assistant.

Nursing students practice procedures learned by using life-like mannequins or each other. At the hospitals they observe and help do nursing chores such as giving bed baths, brushing teeth and making beds.

The students who have Home Economics have a semester of sewing and a semester of cooking. In sewing students are required to make something with sleeves, a zipper and buttons. The cooking class learns the basics of cookery.

Vocational Discovery Is "Practice Makes Perfect!"

"Probably he who has never made a mistake never made a discovery," (Smiles) and business classes, especially typing, give one the opportunity to make a lot of discoveries! The business classes are typing, clerical/secretarial block, bookkeeping and general business. Many of those who are enrolled in business classes choose to be active in Future Business Leaders Of America, exercise what is learned daily and get different types of experience through exposure.

Mrs. Linda Stewart, business teacher, stops to think about a student's inquiry in General Business class as Jane Sharp, junior, Sadie Turley and Sam Rippenhouse, sophomores, below, work on a Typing I assignment. Typing I classes are offered to sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Susan Ryder, senior, seems amused by the "discovery" taking a timed writing in Miss Anna Dean's Typing II class.

Vocational Classes Provide

Forestry, agricultural science, and drafting are an essential part of the vocational program. The many job opportunities available directly after high school encourage students to participate in these classes.

Mr. Francis Valley, Mr. Joel Callison, Mr. Mike Burns and Mr. Orr Lee McMann are the instructors in these departments.

Excellent Job Preparations

Left, Sam Pelnick works on a drawing in drafting. The absence of an instructor for a short time left the students with a few weeks of nothing to work on. The students, being the industrious type, found ways to keep occupied. These activities included scumming fights, doing homework just relaxing.

Above, Jerry McKenney, Forestry I member, swings his as high as hopes of boosting his class's chances of a first place victory in the Forestry Field Day competition.

ANOTHER ONE BITES THE DUST

Sports play a major part in the lives of many students at PCHS, and at the start of each new season, be it football, basketball or track, the desire to win and be number one becomes important.

However, other things such as good sportsmanship are encouraged, too. Concern for an injured Valley player is shown below in a sequence as the Warriors realize his predicament.

Competition among players demonstrated on the opposite page can also help them develop lifelong traits.

Team Captures Four Wins

The Pocahontas Warriors ended the season with a record of four wins and three losses. Six seniors received New River Valley honors. They were: First team - Bruce Rose, John Barton and Larry Sharp. Honorable mention - Mike Doss, Brian Waslo and Ken Underwood.

All Southern Conference players were. Big All Southern First Team - Larry Sharp - Punting Specialist, Class AA All Southern - Larry Sharp - Punting Specialist, Class AA Defense Second Team - John Barton - Linebacker, and Class AA Defense Third Team - Bruce Rose - Tackle. Honorable mention: Class AA Offense - Brian Waslo - Center, Class AA Defense - Ken Underwood - Linebacker and Class AA Defense - Kevin Workman - Back. The Class AA Defense Third Team Coach went to Coach Elmer Friel.

Mark Jones, senior, was a quarterback for the varsity football team. Kevin Workman, II, tries to get away from the opposing while Ricky McCarty, 75, assists.

David Watson, 55, and Bruce Rose, 88, tackle players of the opposite team. The varsity team ended the season with a loss to Alan. The score seven to three. The team's record for the year was four wins and three losses.

Joe Ray, junior, watches a practice that provides a good season for the Warriors.

The Alumni game above proved to be good for the even year graduates, who won, and for the PCMS athletic program. Over $1,000 in proceeds was donated to PCMS athletics.

Two Tims Lead Teams in First Year of High School

The freshmen athletes take a step when reaching high school and joining athletic teams.

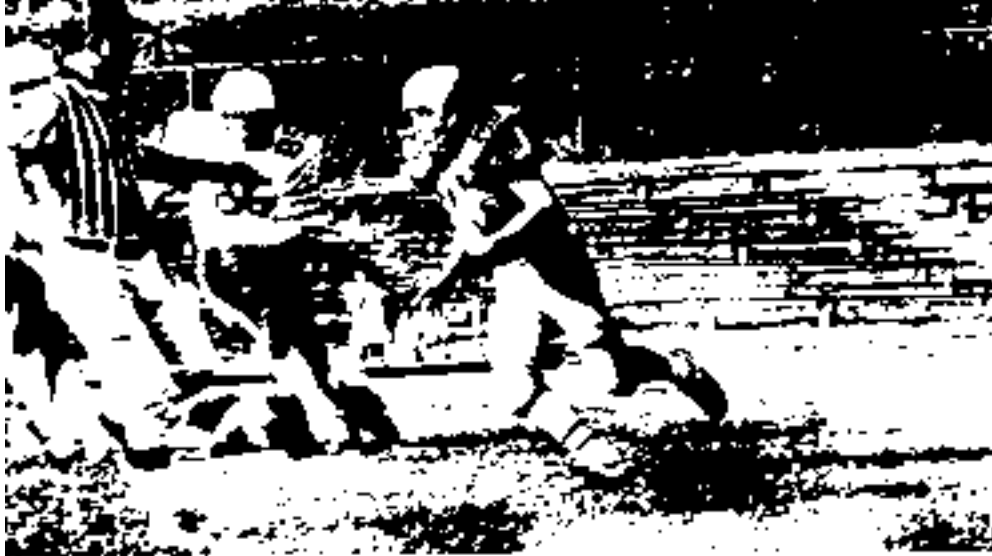

According to Coach Rick Pennypacker the freshman team was the "smallest freshman team around" and still hung in every game finishing with three wins and seven losses. The leading scorer was Tim Helmick.

The freshman football team finished the season with two wins and five losses. Coach Edward Hill said that his most outstanding player was Tim Arbogast.

Below, freshman Jimmy Layman stops to take a breath during a home basketball game. Bottom, the freshman team sometimes has a hard time practicing since there are only 14 players, not enough for two teams.

Some people find it very hard to walk and chew gum at the same time but the referee at left makes it look simple compared to running backwards and blowing his whistle. Below left is the freshman basketball team. Mike Lipski, Peter Burdett, Danny Walling, Tim Arbogast, Joe Crickenburger, Tim Helmick, Jimmy Layman, and John Compton. Below, Coach Rick Pennypacker talks to his team during a timeout in a basketball game.

Down at the 30 yard line is an opposing player after a freshman Warrior tackled him.

The JV team included Bobbi Larson, Margaret Sharp, Pam Lambert, Charma Carr, Betty Davis and Brenda Kiser. Right, Brenda Short was coach for the girls' basketball team and then after resigning as teacher Miss Short became assistant coach because to be a coach one must also be a teacher. Miss Armstrong, junior, jumps for the ball at one of the many varsity games.

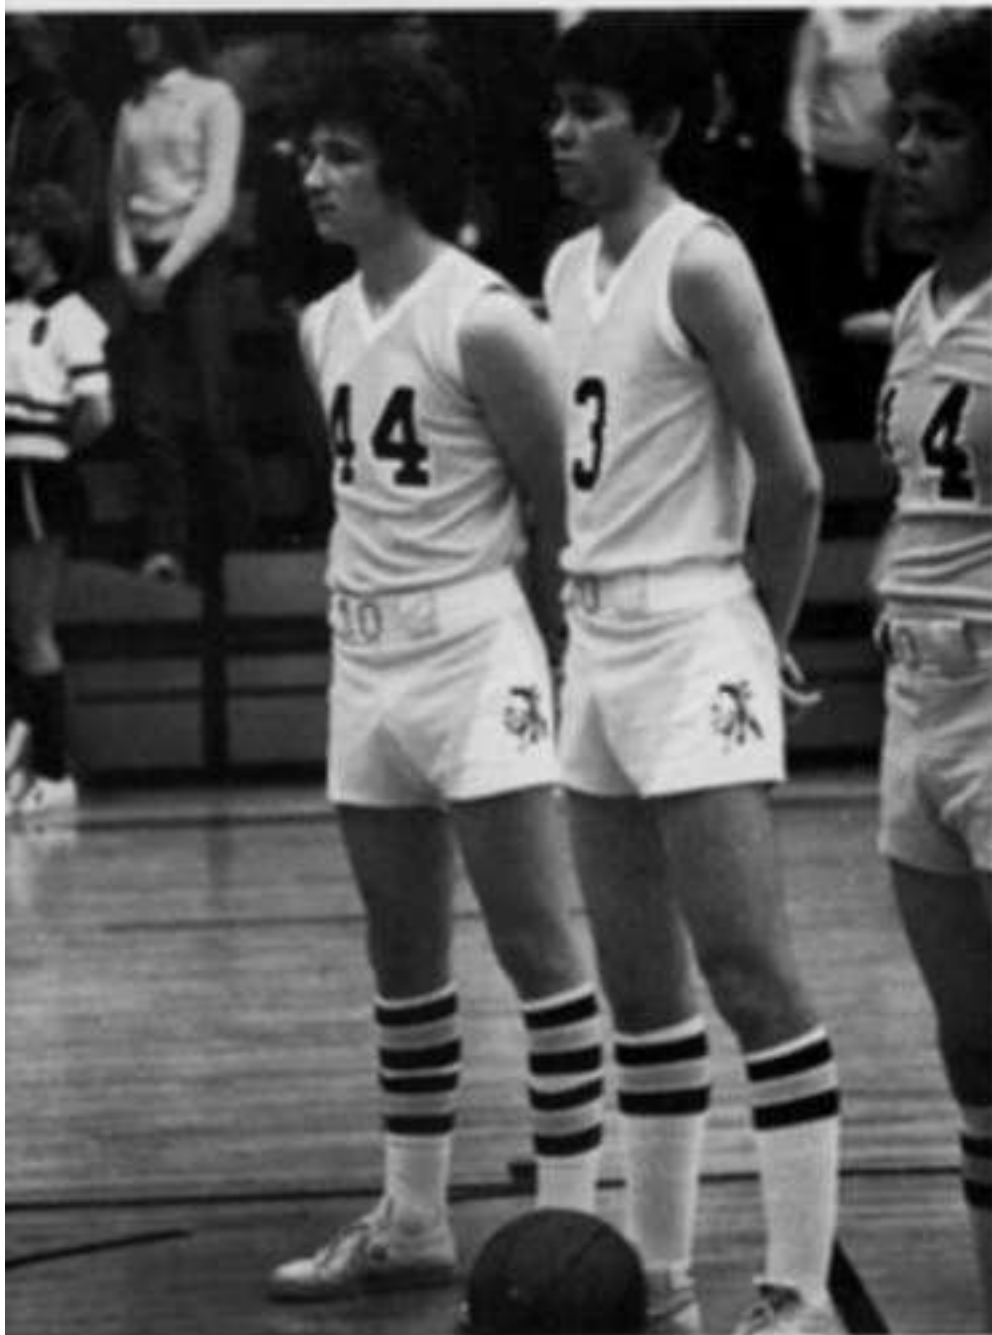

The varsity team always had plenty of spirit, but their cheerleaders, Kim Shandberry and Carol Brewer, juniors, gave them even more spirit during the basketball season. Rachel Sharp helps Julie McLaughlin up off the floor. Both Rachel and Julie played for the varsity team.

There is one thing that must be done before a basketball game can begin - the playing of the National Anthem. Above, Seniors Mark Jonece, Sam Helmick, and Larry Sharp listen intently.

Freshman Elizabeth Newkirk sprints in the 200 meter dash.

Below, Dianne Coleman practices the Foleysbury Hop method to clear the high jump bar.

One Is A Winner

Only one PCHS student participated in the state track meet. She also was the first sophomore in the school's record to receive this position. Becky Davis placed second in the 200 meter dash with a time of 28.1 which qualified her for the State Track Meet in Charleston.

Right, Becky Davis is in the lead in the 200 meter dash in which she placed second.

Residents Enjoy Outdoors

Forestry Field Day, volleyball and soccer. What do these have in common? All of them involve outdoor activity, strength and fun for students.

Pocahontas County is well-known for its outdoor sports. People travel from all over the country to hunt, fish and ski here. Local residents are involved in intramural softball and basketball teams.

Tracy Ryder, sophomore, uses a chainsaw to cut a log. This activity is well-known to many boys at PCHS who cut firewood at home. Mr. Vance, principal, watches as Vance's Vampires play a game of volleyball during the tournament. TNT emerged as victors.

With "dangerous" equipment, Ricky Beck and J.G. Johnson fight for first place during Forestry Field Day. Other events at Field Day were hatchet throwing and log rolling events. Cutting down a tree and many, many more competes.

One Last Time

Seniors Achieve Sports Honors

Outstanding achievement in sports is rewarded through hard work and dedication.

Larry Sharp was chosen to play first team AA punter and defensive end in the North-South All Star Football Classic at Easley Field in Charleston. He also has been awarded first team All Southern and first team All New River Valley Conference, along with other seniors.

Brenda Kinnison broke a track record when she ran the 80 low hurdles in 19.43, breaking Melanie Rose's 1980 record of 19.43.

Sports is not just football, basketball, and track, it is also gymnastics. Whether its doing somersaults, headstands or jumping on the trampoline, for some it takes plenty of practice and patience. Bottom right, gymnast Brenda Kinnison demonstrates a flip in mid-air to the student body at the annual gymnastics show.

Some students who are involved in athletics find time to participate in extra-curricular activities such as choir, band, the newspaper and yearbook staff and somehow fit time in to socialize with friends. Below left, Chuck Beverage, football player, obviously likes what he sees at a choir performance.

"What goes up must come down" is what Dorene Hughes and Margaret Sharp think while they wait for the basketball to bounce off the back board at practice.

Some athletes believe that the best way to pull themselves together before a game is by talking, joking and laughing. Others may feel that going off by themselves and concentrating is the best remedy to control nerves. But, many athletes may feel that a pep talk from the coach and also a prayer is necessary. Above, Coach Brenila shoots goes over the offensive and defensive plays to reassure the team. Bottom left, Larry Sharp performs a jump shot at a home basketball game. Mike Dork, football player, enjoys a game of ping-pong on his lunch shift.

Pep rallies are held to bring out the spirit in the student body, to introduce the athletic teams and to add a little fun to a school day. Above, the varsity cheerleaders perform a pom-pom routine spelling out P.C.H.S. Center. Brenda Kinnison takes a break from cheerleading to give a friendly hug to Irene White and Beth Lipik during a football game.

70 Squads Attend Cheering Camp

The varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders attended the National Cheerleaders Association Camp at West Virginia Wesleyan College last summer.

During the week the cheerleaders learned new sidelines, floor cheers and chants. They also learned dance routines and mounts. Each day the cheerleaders won a ribbon for their work and at the end of the week the group was awarded a spirit stick.

Left is the junior varsity cheerleading squad for boys' basketball. Carla Helmer, Debbie Ramsey and Lori Wilfong. Facial expression and hand motions are widely used when being a cheerleader. Top row, Beth Liptak uses a roll motion with her arms to emphasize a cheer and Laura Howell uses a push forward motion. Lori Wilfong and Kim Scott are caught with unusual face expressions during a game. Brenda Ricorilli and Brenda Kinnison use the usual clap of the hands to keep in beat with a cheer.

What was your craziest moment as a cheerleader?

Irene White said that while doing the "Yella" cheer, she fell when doing a cartwheel and Brenda Ricorilli accidentally ran into her.

Laura Howell said that once at a Christmas party, she along with others strung up their cheerleading sponsor's cigarettes.

Brenda Kinnison said that once at a game she forgot to put her lights on under the skirt.

Beth Liptak said that she once got stuck in a bathroom when she pulled the knob off of the door when going to an away halfgame.

LIFE . . . TOO MANY

With so many active and interesting clubs at PCHS it is often hard to decide which ones to join. Students are involved in clubs that compete in regional and state competitions, go canoeing from Durbin to Marlinton, and camp along the way, go to the County Courthouse to learn how to use the court records or do something special for their senior members -- such as buy jackets for senior lettermen.

Far left, Rejetta Cassell, senior, displays her feeling when there are one too many things to be done.

At left, Cindy Mullens, senior, cleans up rubber cement in journalism class when she was rushed for time.

"Hey man it's me," might be what Ronnie Simmons, junior, is saying to the guys on stage who are trying to be Mr. Macho to an uncaring girl audience.

Popular Clubs Rate First

Lettermen and PALS are two clubs who rate first among students at PCHS. These clubs work together to show their enthusiasm and team spirit. PALS members work at football and basketball games to raise money for school items.

The Lettermen's Club consists of varsity lettermen who try to raise money for equipment and other items needed for boy's athletics. The Lettermen raised money to buy jackets for their senior members this year.

PALS went to Dilley's Mill for a formal initiation during the fall. They also went to Pocahontas Motel for dinner in the spring.

Taking A Step Ahead

Stepping ahead. In the National Honor Society, are those who excel in the areas of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. These students are not satisfied to simply "get by," they work hard to achieve their goals and to contribute to society.

The Dare Club is also taking a step forward being one of the new clubs this year. The main purpose of Dare is to teach all the aspects of drama.

Spring Brings Hard Work

The Future Business Leaders of America is a club offered to any student who has a business class such as: typing, shorthand, bookkeeping.

This spring the FBLA members traveled to Concord College to compete in the regional Future Business Leaders of America Conference. Kim Friel, junior, placed second on the typing I test, while Robyn Hileary, junior, placed third on public speaking. On April 3, both girls traveled to Glenville State College to compete. Robyn placed second in the public speaking division, and Kim placed third on the typing I test.

This year in order to raise funds, the FBLA members sold decorative candles.

The Prom Planning Committee consists of a group of juniors who plan, design, and decorate for the prom. Once the committee has decided upon a theme, they purchase the necessary materials. Then in the spring the week preceeding the prom the committee begins to prepare the gymnasium. The 1981 Prom is scheduled for May

Clubs Step Into the Future

Future Homemakers of America (FHA) is a national organization, open to all home economics students who pay state and national dues. Upon membership in FHA, new members must go through two initiations, one formal, the other informal. Activities this year included an Easter Tea and planning a school clean-up day and a family dinner in the spring.

Future Farmers of America, FFA, has participated in the Ham, Bacon, and Egg Show, sheep shearing, land judging and tractor driving this year.

FFA Officers are: Gary Beverage, David Carr, Jeff Baxter, J. R. Auer, Bob McKeeney, Farrell Kelly, Sam

FFA Members Row One: Mr. Orr, Lee McManis, sponsor, Curtis Wade, Lawrence Kiner, Jeff Baxter, Daniel Sharp, Lisa Mann, Todd Shreve, Gilly Scott, David Carr, Paul Hill, Gary Beverage. # Aides Gain Experience

Grading papers, typing, running errands — these are just some of the tasks completed day after day by the teacher's aides and office aides. In addition to regular classes, aide classes give students experience in the job of teaching, especially those planning to enter the teaching field. It also gives the teachers a break to have an aide to rely on. The office aides have many jobs, too, including lots of paperwork and paging people throughout the day.

Travel Furnishes Valuable Information, Job Training

Updating family histories, aiding the County Historical Society, and charting graveyards are the main jobs of the Historical Club. This year the club took a field trip to the county courthouse where they reviewed the various records of Pocahontas County.

The nursing classes headed by Mrs. Gladys Vance give students an opportunity to learn the routine duties of a nurse. The class often takes trips to Pocahontas Memorial and Denmar State Hospitals. At the hospitals the girls do volunteer work as nurse's aides.

The PCHS drafting classes are offered in one-, two-, and three-hour block classes. Students who participate in the drafting program are taught the basic fundamentals of drafting. They may then become members of the Drafting Club.

P.E. Dept. Buys Equipment

The gymnastics club was started two years ago. Most members of the club are in physical education or advanced physical education. Club members participate in the annual Physical Education Show held each spring. Club members are taught many gymnastics stunts by sponsor, Reta Rose.

And Presents Annual Show

The Fencing Club idea came about by an interested student who brought up the idea of starting such a club.

Mrs. Reta Rose, gym teacher, wanted to teach fencing in her physical education classes, but the lack of equipment available prevented it.

The group learns the basic stunts of fencing, how to successfully fence against each other, and how to use proper form in their maneuvers. The equipment has been purchased over the past two years by the physical education department.

The members of the 1980 Fencing Club are Robbie Waugh, Jimmy Layman, Scott Howell, Bruce Bann, Ken Little, D.J. Schuler, Matt Dunn, Shawn Irvine, Wayne Perry, David Luptak and Chuck Hovrager. Mr. Joe Jones and Mrs. Reta Rose.

A Lot Of Time Devoted

Do-ra-me. If you walk by the bandroom around 6th period, you would probably hear the Pops Group and choir warming up to those words.

This year the Pops Group and choir had a period appropriated for them, instead of having to call special practice after school. They have been busy performing and traveling to concerts.

The choir and Pops Group consists of 48 members who perform concerts all through the year. They are under the direction of Mr. Charles Fisher. Below, Mr. Fisher practices with the Pops Group.

Majorettes Support Team

1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8. Who in their right mind repeats these numbers over and over again? If you guessed the majorettes, you're right. During the summer the squad attended camp and were honored with a superior ribbon, but as August rolled around, so did summer band practice and the long hours of work had just begun for the majorettes as they got ready for football season.

Along with the majorettes, the pep band performed at the home basketball games to show their support for the team.

Band Is Spirited At

At every football game, more than just the cheers of the fans and cheerleaders can be heard. A few minutes before game time the beat of the drums can be heard. The war beat gets closer and finally the PCHS band marches off the hill. The band performed a pregame and half time show at every home game and traveled to all the away games and performed. Rain or shine, the band works hard to add an extra touch of spirit to the fans and team.

Band Works Hard All Year

In addition to performing at football games, the band is also involved in many other activities throughout the year. Among these are the Forest Festival parade in Elkins and Band Day at West Virginia University. This year, through a magazine drive, school carnival and other activities, the band raised enough money to buy new uniforms. The most exciting event the band had was rating a "1" (superior) at the Northern West Virginia Band Festival in Clarksburg. To accomplish these things takes a great deal of practice. Band members start practice in August to be ready for the first game. This year they may find themselves practicing in July because they've been invited to the State Fair of West Virginia.

Some Learn Some Don't

The PCHS Chess Club, sponsored by Mr. Quentin Stewart, and Mr. Steve Barksdale, consists of approximately 32 members. Once a month during club period the Chess Club members meet to play as well as learn about chess. This year the club sponsors worked to improve the members' skills.

The "I Don't Care" Club, started by Dr. William Leary, math teacher, consists of approximately 11 members. Not just anyone may join this club, simply because the club is the pet name Mr. Leary has given to his sixth period geometry class.

There have been no meetings, and the club has no officers. When one club member was asked why the club had neither meetings nor officers she replied, "Because, 'We Don't Care!'"

PEOPLE WHO MATTER

Every person helps to make up the 554 students who form PCHS, each of whom is different in his own way.

All the events of his lifetime are there because he has drawn them there. It is then up to the individual to choose what to do with them. In the everyday lives at PCHS students come in contact with lots of different people, but some touch their lives more than others.

It is hard to say that final farewell, but meeting again, after moments or a lifetime, is certain for those who are friends.

Dolan Learns, Crist Earns From Inertia

A lot of times it takes more than just telling a student something to get him to believe it. Mr. Harold Crist, science teacher, had a hard time proving the principles of inertia to Danny Dolan, senior. The question resulted in a bet and Danny had to pay up.

We Couldn't Do Without Them

Some of the most important jobs in the school system are often overlooked. These occupations range from the busdrivers who make sure that students get to school safely each day to the cooks who try to make the cafeteria a more enjoyable place. Another of the behind-the-scenes jobs is that of custodian. Without Joe Jones and his assistants, P.C.H.S. wouldn't have it's sparkle and shine.

The cafeteria has seen a lot of changes through the years. Mr. David Shetley, Food Service Supervisor, resigned last year. Sharon Turner is the new supervisor. The lunch token system was dropped last year also. This year teachers take a lunch count in first period. Usually two, sometimes three, choices are served every day. The cooking routine is a little more hectic this year with the addition of the Green Bank Middle School students. Cooks: (L to R) Joyce Varner, Mae Corbett, Evelyn Beverage, Marie Nottingham, and Sharon Turner.

Joel Callison, agricultural science teacher, was added to the staff in January of this year. He replaced Mr. Dolan Irvine, after he was elected assessor of Pocahontas County, in November. At right is Mr. Delmus Barb, physical education teacher and coach.

Twelve Years of Schooling Create Lifelong Memories

After 12 years of school the seniors look forward to the future while remembering their past school experiences. The good times may stand out as memories, along with thoughts of friendships made for a lifetime. This section of the 1981 yearbook has been dedicated to the seniors and their efforts to make their last four years enjoyable as well as educational. These pages are intended to capture those unforgettable moments.

The basketball team members work hard to have a winning record. Sam Hedrick, senior, warms up before practice and relaxes in the whirlpool afterwards. Beth Lipish, senior, is perplexed with her latest chemistry experiment.

Mr. Harold Crist, chemistry teacher, works out technicalities for the seniors' trip to Charleston. Don Dolea, senior, shows off his "cla-grin" during his lunch shift.

Arlene Morrison, senior, does paper work for Mr. Gary Beverage, electronics teacher, below. She became Mr. Beverage's aide when he replaced Mr. Berlin VanDerender.

The senior picnic is an enjoyable part of the senior year. This year it was held October 16, on the football field. The students ate hamburgs, baked beans and potato chips for lunch and had the rest of the day to themselves. Some played ball, some conversed with friends and others like Curtis Wade, Ross Hinesy and Linell Gifford soaked up the sun.

Ones We Remember

Everyday events from the school routine will soon be forgotten. Moments spent in the gym or just hanging around won't be remembered as outstanding. Soon all these people and friends will be gone as new faces appear. The school will never be quite the same, and yet, there are people, places, and events that can't be forgotten — those times that will be discussed in the years to come when you meet an old classmate and say, "Hey, do you remember . . ."

Doing their everyday crazy things, the seniors show their humor. To make school life more bearable, activities are scheduled to lighten the tedious days. # We're Still the Ones

We're still having fun
And we're still the ones.

The Class of '81 has always been an on-the-go class. The seniors have never been content to go home and sit. Seniors can be seen working after school at local businesses and a lot of seniors stay after school for organizational activities.

On-the-go seniors are Earl Jordan, right, Roger Ober, and at bottom, Beth Liptak and Dorey Rose.

Amber Ralston, below left, gets a bear hug and a tickling from Brian Wardo and Rick McQuerry as Chuck Beverage, Earl Jordan and Bruce Rose watch from the side at the Senior Picnic.

The wall display, above, was the result of the combined efforts of many seniors during Spirit Week. The last football game was dedicated to the senior band members, cheerleaders and football players. Rocky Mayse, above right, stands beside his mother after giving her a carriage.

Once Everything's Done . . . Will We Ever See Them Again?

Graduation is a happy day, but there's emptiness from the loss of old friends. They will be missed, and when it's done, will we see them again?

Kevin Workman and Dan Dolen, senior basketball players, hustle to gain a few points for the "Warriors." Irene White, senior, decorates the hall wall for the homecoming dance.

Juniors show true leadership

The officers for the junior class are Ronnie Simmons, vice-president; Kim Dean, president; Toni Beale, secretary and Brett Withers, treasurer.

The junior class has always sponsored many events during the school year. The event that is always uppermost in everyone's mind and is the topic of all conversations is, of course, the Junior-Senior Prom.

The prom committee began planning in January for the prom which was May 8.

Trash can be found almost anywhere in the school — lockers, the parking lot after a dance and especially the journalism room right after a deadline. Chester Lovelace and Connie Foster try to take care of their trash problems.

Cummins Seen as Hillbilly During Contest

The average West Virginian has often been stereotyped as a liquor-drinking hillbilly with teeth missing and smoking a corn-cob pipe.

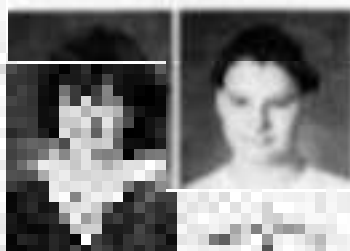

Jack Cummins, junior, displays his version of the West Virginia hillbilly during advanced science class. Jack doesn't always dress this way, but did so in trying to help his class win first place in the five day long Spirit Week Contest.

Officers Plan Hillbilly Contest

The hardest working people in a class are probably it's officers. These sophomore officers had a busy year in sponsoring Sadie Hawkins Day and Dance and also the Easter Ball. They also had to have the foresight to move one step further and start planning ahead for their 1982 Prom, probably the biggest highlight of their high school years.

Officers are Melinda Wilson, Treasurer, Shawn Irvine, president, Anne Howsare, vice-president, and Kim Scott, secretary.

Things We'd Like To Now Forget

At least once in your life you've done something that you'd like to forget, but the memories just keep coming back.

Nobody could forget the day PCHS was invaded by outerspace persons when Anne Howsare, sophomore, helped put on a skit for a project in future studies.

It will also be a long time before the freshmen guys will forget getting beaten by Jennifer Fleming in a race during the freshmen picnic.

Lockers Provide Unique Storage

What's green and stands at attention all the time? It's the life-saving place of storage for old tests, overdue books and lots of what nots. It's your everyday high school locker!

Stepping Back In Time

Taking one step up the ladder, the class of 1983 made it through the first term papers, Algebra, confusion and all the necessary evils that pounce on the unsuspecting freshmen their First year. As sophomores, they then dissect frogs in biology and wade through geometry . . . could it be that in reflecting on past events, maybe it wasn't so bad being a freshman after all? Ronnie Rose, sophomore, steals away from football practice to reflect on past events and think about current events.

Moving Right Along

Running. Everyone does it at one time or another, legally or illegally. Students run legally after school as a part of the track team. Students also run illegally to be first in lunch line, first to the buses or to make it to class on time after walking a girlfriend to her class. It's a fantastic form of exercise — only if the proper usage of running is applied. These students concentrate wholly on their running.

Freshman Spirit FLOWS

There is one thing that the freshmen didn't misplace somewhere around the school, forget in their locker or leave at home. It's something that comes along with the pride and enthusiasm this class has shown so much of — SPIRIT! During their picnic early in the year, they could be heard in the school all the way from the football field. The freshmen either have a large supply of energy or they have big mouths!

Mike Wilfong shows spirit while giving it all he's got and having a great time in a relay race held during the annual freshmen picnic in mid-September.

Uniqueness Is Displayed

Everyone is unique in one's own special way with a special quality that makes them different from everyone else. Whether it is the clothes they wear or the classes they take, which can vary from Drafting to Physics, no two people are alike.

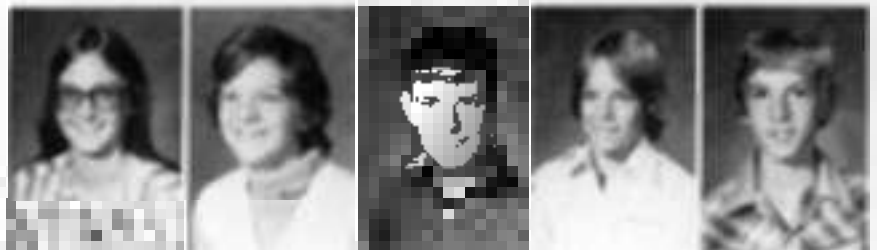

Names can prove the difference too. Mike Liptak writes his name on a metal plate with a metal engraver in drafting class.

Activity Brings Enthusiasm

Physical Education classes can be a lot of fun when you are playing games with your friends. It can also have its downfall, like trying to get dressed and undressed in a hurry so you won't be late for your next class.

However, doing exercises, playing basketball, and gymnastics are only a part of what Physical Education has to offer. It gives everyone a chance to relax from their classes and enjoy some fun while friends compete against each other.

Even though this class may sound like fun and games it is not always easy to run and do exercises. Every student receives a grade for this class and it is based on how much cooperation they show.

Elizabeth Newkirk, freshman, and Pam Copen, junior, seem to be enjoying a good game of basketball in gym class. This class is just one of the many required for the freshmen to take in their first year at the high school.

Thank God It's Friday!

It was 3:15 on a Friday. The halls filled quickly with laughter, people running and sighs of relief. It was Friday afternoon, finally. And weekends are for fun. It's the time to sit and relax, sleep in late, watch cartoons and see a movie. It's the time to do what you've been putting off for ages, like cleaning your room or washing the car. Weekends don't last forever . . . but, some wish they did!

Chester Shifflet and Scott Howell are relieved that Friday finally rolled around!

Killing Time

"Different strokes for different folks" is the expression that describes how the individual spends free time. Some spend free time by studying and catching up on back work that has accumulated while others spent their time with friends, on personal interests or simply goofing off. Kendall Thompson, right, and Kim Cohenour and Glen Corbett relax in their own special ways.
